

My brother and I started a Red Cross certified business teaching swimming lessons in our backyard pool.

Administer the business and set up a legal partnership, procure insurance, obtain Red Cross certification for the pool, create website, schedule lessons, invoice and collect fees for lessons

Communicate and follow-up with parents about lesson administration and skills development of the students

Teach lessons one on one, including power swim